

WAGES CANNOT BE FIXED BY LAW IS RULING OF COURT

Body Divides Five to Three, Chief Justice Taft Dissenting

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Wages cannot be fixed by law, the supreme court, dividing five to three, held today in a case brought to test the constitutionality of an act of congress fixing minimum wages for women and minor girls in the District of Columbia.

The decision was delivered by Justice Sutherland, Justices McKenna, Vandevanter, McReynolds and Butler joining with him. Chief Justice Taft delivered a dissenting opinion for himself and Justice Sanford, while Justice Holmes read a dissenting opinion which followed in its main features that of Chief Justice Taft. Justice Brandeis did not participate in the decision.

The majority of the court based its position broadly on the right of contract, insisting that while laws could be enforced to regulate working conditions the employer and the employee must be free of restraint in determining between themselves what wages are acceptable.

The minority contended that there was no greater police power in congress and the state legislature to regulate working conditions than to regulate wages and that as there had been wide uniformity in holding that working conditions could be prescribed by law making bodies it followed in their judgment that wages were also a proper subject for legislation.

Justice Sutherland pointed out that the minimum wage law was "attacked on the ground that it authorizes an unconstitutional interference with the freedom of contract included within the guarantees of the due process clause of the fifth amendment."

The right to contract "about one's affairs," he stated is a part of the liberty of the liberal protected by this clause.

The fact, he asserted, was "settled by the decisions of this court and is no longer open to question."

Right to Obtain Best Terms
"Within this liberty are contracts of employment of labor," the majority opinion continued. "In making such contracts generally speaking, the parties have an equal right to obtain from each other the best terms they can as the result of private bargaining."

Legislative authority to abridge the right of contract can be justified, Justice Sutherland stated, only by the existence of exceptional circumstances. Among the exceptions to the broad rule which have been sustained by the courts, he said, were statutes fixing rates and charges to be exacted by business impressed with a public interest for the performance of public work, those prescribing the character, methods and time for payment of wages and those fixing hours of labor.

Justice Sutherland declared the law under attack, was not one "dealing with any business with a public interest or with public work, or to meet and tide over a temporary emergency."

"It has nothing to do," he said, "with the character methods or periods of wage payments. It does not prescribe hours of labor or conditions under which labor is to be done. It is not for the protection of persons under legal disability or for the prevention of fraud. It is simply and exclusively a price fixing law confined to adult women (few were not now considering the provision relating to minors who are legally incapable of contracting for themselves as men)."

The majority opinion criticized the law on the ground that the price fixed by the board (set up to administer its provisions) need have no relation to the capacity or earning power of the employee, the number of hours which may happen to constitute a day's work, the character of the place where the work is to be done, or the circumstances of the employment.

"It is based wholly," the opinion added on the members of the board and their advisers—perhaps an average of their opinions, if they do not precisely agree—as to what will be necessary to provide a living for a woman, keep her in health and preserve her morals."

TEXAS KLANSMEN SOLIDLY BEHIND IMPERIAL WIZARD

Grand Dragon Says Texas Will Support Dr. W. H. Evans

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9.—The Texas klansmen are solidly behind Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, according to a statement issued today by H. C. McCall, of Houston, grand dragon for the State of Texas and head of the klans in that state. Mr. McCall is in Atlanta to support Imperial Wizard Evans.

"Texas has 140,000 klansmen," said Mr. McCall, "and all of the 275 klans in this state are behind Dr. Evans and will vigorously contest any attempt to usurp his authority."

"The biggest realm of the invisible empire recognizes the fact that Dr. H. W. Evans was duly and legally elected imperial wizard at the November Klonoconvocation. Texas delegates were there and voted for him and they are determined that their properly expressed opinion shall not be set aside. Our state opinion was expressed at a meeting of Texas klans held in Dallas last week to the effect that Texas klansmen were proud of Dr. Evans in his determination to safeguard the order from personal exploitation and Texas would have been ashamed of Dr. Evans had he chosen any other course of action."

Headquarters of Dr. Evans also announced receipt of a telegram from Portland, Ore., that the klans of Oregon are solidly supporting him. He also announced that a telegram from the grand dragon of Arkansas stated that the klans had been held in Little Rock and that Arkansas "gave its full support to Imperial Wizard Dr. H. W. Evans and commended his administration of klans affairs."

Indiana klans headquarters it was announced wired Dr. Evans that the klans of that state "unqualifiedly endorsed him and were with him to the limit." Indiana, the announcement said is one of the largest of the klans states.

Similar messages were declared to have been received by Dr. Evans from the heads of the klans in the states of New York, Illinois and Ohio.

Travelers of Tampian Find It Rough Going

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., April 9.—W. S. Maxwell, president of the Miami Motor club and a party which left here early today in hope of meeting the West Coast automobile voyagers 40 miles out of Miami on the Tampian Trail, returned late tonight and reported that they had found no trace of them. Nineteen men and five women comprise the party of motorists who left Tampa Wednesday in an attempt to negotiate the first coast to coast automobile trip through the Everglades.

From the forty mile point, where a six mile impassable stretch begins, the Miami party walked on out seven miles. There they met engineers working on the trail who said the party had not put in an appearance. It was learned that the inner section swept by rains last week was hit considerably harder than was reported and that passage was impossible.

Mr. Maxwell said tonight on his return that he believed the party had run into soft going and had turned back. With Indian guides he said he did not believe they could have become lost but rather have had hard going and would sooner or later find their way.

DAIRY INDUSTRY TO BE PUT UNDER ONE CENTRAL HEAD

Will Standardize Products and Increase Consumption

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 9.—Unification of the dairy industry into one central sales agency to standardize dairy products, create national brands and to increase consumption was voted at a meeting of dairy men here today from six midwestern states representing 75 per cent of the dairy production of the country. The central agency according to the report of the committee adopted is to be incorporated in one of the central states having the most liberal cooperative marketing acts and will be made up of co-operative marketing associations, groups of associations, federations of local associations and by local associations or groups of associations.

The agency is to market directly for its members only any dairy products other than fluid milk. Headquarters are to be established in Chicago and machinery set up as soon as possible for its function not later than September. The capital stock of the central agency, according to the plan, is to be in common stock held only by member associations and carry all power of voting and by preferred stock to bear approximately seven per cent dividends, such payments being guaranteed and to be deducted from proceeds of sales of dairy products.

Control is to be exercised by members on the basis of one vote per member but on demand of one-third of the members all shall recast their votes on the basis of an advisory vote cast.

Ten or directly or by mail on the basis of one vote for every ten or major fraction of patrons or producer members actually delivering milk to the plants of the central association.

Executive control shall be in the board of directors composed of thirty-five members and an executive committee to be elected by the board of directors composed of seven members, including the president, three vice-presidents and three other selected members.

More than 125,000 dairymen in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio were directly represented at the meeting, which is said to be the culmination of more than 100 years of co-operative marketing development which started in Connecticut in 1810 when a small group of farmers agreed to pool their products, appointed one a cheese maker and began the first co-operative cheese factory.

WINTER WHEAT CROP FORECAST BY GOVERNMENT

Is Smallest Crop Since 1918 and Below 10 Year Average

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—This year's winter wheat crop was forecast today by the department of agriculture at 572,317,000 bushels, the smallest since 1918, and 17,537 bushels less than the average production for the last ten years.

The forecast was based on conditions prevailing April 1 and upon the assumption of average abandonment of acreage thru the winter and average influences from now until harvest. No estimate was made of the abandoned acreage, which will be indicated in the May crop report but in summarizing conditions as they existed April 1, the department said abandonment promises to be heavy altho irregular from Ohio westward to Kansas and Nebraska.

Owing to the extensive drought or scanty rainfall last fall and winter in many sections, the department said, "much wheat failed to germinate or barely germinating, perished thru the rigors of winter." In the plains area, extending from western Nebraska thru western Kansas into the Panhandle region of Oklahoma and Texas, conditions are extremely poor, ranging from fifty per cent downward to complete failure.

These conditions extend with lessening severity over the adjacent area, including the southwestern half of Nebraska, practically all of the Texas Panhandle, eastern New Mexico, eastern Colorado and southwestern Wyoming, in all of which territory the condition is below 65 per cent.

The acreage sown to winter wheat last fall was about 1,500,000 acres less than sown in the fall of 1921, the total having been 46,069,000 acres for this year's crop compared with 47,611,000 acres for last year's crop. The abandoned acreage last year amounted to almost 5,000,000 acres, and indications are that the abandonment this year will be more extensive.

This year's rye production was forecast at 75,784,000 bushels, which is almost 20,000,000 less than last year's record crop, the third largest ever grown.

ROYAL WEDDING HELD IN ITALY

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, April 9.—Yolanda, vivacious and beautiful princess of the house of Savoy today became the bride of Count Carlo Calvi di Bergolo, cavalry captain and World War hero.

King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena with moistened eyes saw their 21-year-old daughter united with the man of her choice in two ceremonies, both held within the historic quinal palace.

The civil ceremony began at 10:30 in the morning in the grand hall of the palace with the Count officiating as civil officer of the crown. The religious ceremony followed shortly in the Pauline Chapel, Monsignor Beccaria, court chaplain, celebrating the mass. In a homily delivered during the ceremony the chaplain, addressing Count Calvi and his royal bride, said:

"Three principal duties must sing like hymns in your hearts—love for your life time, education of your children and the holy government of your family. The assertion that the task of parents is bitter and heavy is false. It is sweet and sacred having the highest object to continue and to perpetuate the work of creation."

Monsignor Beccaria ended the ceremony with a prayer that the future of the couple be happy one.

The wedding was a cause for popular rejoicing.

WANTS BRUNDAGE TO PUT MONEY IN TREASURY

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 9.—The unexpended portion of the $75,000 appropriation to Attorney General Brundage for prosecution of the Herrin trials should be returned to the state treasury and an accounting made of the money spent, Representative Arthur Roe, Democrat, Vandalia, declared tonight in a statement. Expenses of the first trial were paid by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, said Mr. Roe, who led the fight in the house against the $1,637,340 appropriation to attorney general's office for the biennium.

"It seems to me there should be $50,000 of the Herrin appropriation left after expenses of the second trial are deducted."

He intimated that unless an accounting is forthcoming he will start a move to ask Mr. Brundage for it.

ARMY'S LARGEST NON DIRIGIBLE AT SCOTT FIELD

Makes 500 Mile Trip from Akron, Ohio, Successfully

(By The Associated Press)

BELLELEVILLE, Ill., April 9.—The T. C.-1, largest non-rigid dirigible of the United States army, landed at Scott field, the army aviation post near here at 5:40 this evening, successfully completing a 500 mile trial flight from Wingfoot Lake station, Akron, Ohio.

Circling over the field several times, the giant dirigible descended. Two hundred enlisted men manning the ropes tucked the ship in the hangar.

The flight was uneventful, according to members of the crew who said only minor mechanical trouble occurred. The flight required fourteen hours and twenty-five minutes, making only one stop at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. Maintaining an average speed of 35 to 50 miles an hour the ship consumed 365 gallons of gasoline.

Several members of the crew suffered slight "sea sickness." The crew of the T. C.-1, which will be used at Scott field for training flying cadets is composed of Lieutenant F. M. McKee, test and instruction pilot; Lieutenant Clyde A. Kuntz, test pilot and engineering assembling officer, both of Scott field; Lieutenant James C. Gluck, official observer and pilot, Washington, D. C., and Staff Sergeants Olla Brown and Harry Barnes, motor and rigging experts at Scott field. Civilian instructors at Akron accompanied the crew.

DAY LABORERS OF U. S. STEEL TO GET INCREASE IN WAGES

Announcement Made from New York City Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 9.—The United States Steel corporation today announced a wage increase of 11 per cent, effective April 16 for day laborers employed in the manufacturing plants of its subsidiary companies with an equitable adjustment for other classes of labor in those plants. More than 150,000 employees are affected and the increase is estimated will add approximately one-half a million dollars to the weekly payroll.

The Republic Iron & Steel company immediately announced a similar wage increase for its day laborers. The Jones and Laughlin, Bethlehem Steel corporation later announced an increase of approximately 11 per cent.

The Crucible, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and other large independent companies are expected to follow suit. Three small midwestern manufacturers previously had announced increases of from 40 to 41 cents an hour for common laborers.

Employees of the mining, transportation and miscellaneous properties of the United States Steel corporation are not affected by the present increase, but it was stated at the offices of the corporation that wage adjustments already had been made or were pending for those groups. Last September the corporation announced an increase of 20 per cent to all employees other than those in the railway service. The present rate of pay for day laborers in the manufacturing plants of the corporation is 36 cents an hour. The increase will bring the wages to approximately 40 cents an hour. The increase in the steel industry closely follows those in the textile, copper mining and certain building trades.

While the increase in the steel industry was regarded in Wall street as inevitable because of the sharp competition for unskilled labor the actual announcement was not expected until the return of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation who is due here Friday after an absence of two months on a Mediterranean cruise.

Mr. Gary and Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation reportedly have called attention to the shortage of unskilled labor which they blamed on the restrictive immigration laws.

Manufacturing plants of the United States Steel corporation are now working at 92 per cent of capacity which is believed to be the maximum possible under present labor and transportation conditions.

New business booked this year, the corporation has announced, exceeds the rated maximum capacity of the subsidiary companies. Prices of steel products have been advancing steadily since the early part of last year the increases for a number of standard products ranging from 33 1-3 to 60 2-3 per cent.

BROOD SOWS ON FARMS INCREASE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Brood sows on farms April 1, numbered 6.7 per cent more than a year ago, the department of agriculture announced today adding that the report indicated farmers have materially reduced the number of sows kept for spring pigs from their expressed intention reported on Dec. 1 last. Corn belt states showed the largest increases, South Dakota showing 17 per cent; Iowa, Kansas and Indiana 10 per cent; Illinois 9 per cent; Nebraska and Minnesota 8 per cent. Several cotton states, notably Louisiana, Alabama and Texas reported material declines which are believed to be due to the high price of and increasing interest in cotton.

A THOUGHT.

To everyone there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.—Eccles. 3:1-1

The ill-usage of every minute is a new record against us in heaven.—Zimmerman.

This is county primary day. The two candidates, one of whom will in November be made a member of the county board, will be selected today. The office of commissioner is important, as the board yearly handles a large amount of public business. For this reason citizens have real interest in the election today and should without doubt go to the polls and select the man they believe best qualified.

The campaign for the sale of stock in Jacksonville's proposed hotel has been under way for two weeks. The total fund of $200,000 sought is just about $10,000 short of that amount. If you have not become a stock purchaser there is still a chance to invest in this enterprise, which without question will be of material benefit to Jacksonville.

Do you think that E. B. Craftree has made good as the mayor of this city? During his term of office has the city made progress? During that time has the reputation of Jacksonville in outside territory been improved? What do you think of the present city spirit? Has not the administration of city affairs contributed largely to that spirit?

These are all questions you should ask yourself and then on Tuesday, April 17, go to the polls and record your answer, whatever it may be.

While the army appropriation bill carried about $56,000,000 for river and harbor improvement, about twice what the budget bureau had recommended, it does not follow that the amount is going to be thrown away on the dredging of some insignificant creek where there is practically no water-borne commerce. Secretary of War Weeks has indicated that the money appropriated by congress will be spent where it will be the greatest benefit to the nation's commerce.

He favors the improvement of the Ohio and Monongahela rivers so as to facilitate the shipment of steel products to New Orleans and thence to South America or thru the Panama Canal to the Far East. While the army engineers have given their approval to a large number of smaller projects, the secretary is invested with complete discretion as to how the lump sum shall be expended.

RIVALRIES AND GOOD WILL

Ample basis for confidence in the continued peaceful relations between the leading English speaking nations of the world is indicated by two sentences in the message which Secretary of State Hughes sent to the Fifth Pan-American Conference which met recently in Brazil. He said in one part of his message: "Present experiences, reinforcing the lessons of history, cause fresh recognition of the utility of mere formal arrangements in the absence of good will." Again he said: "All problems find solution among those who desire to be friendly and just."

The negotiation of treaties aids, of course, in preserving friendly relations, but it is true now as it has always been that a treaty by itself will not prevent discord. In fact those inclined to seek discord may find their opportunity in the treaty which is designed to preserve peace. Those who desire not to be peaceful can readily denounce as a mere "scrap of paper" any agreement to which they have placed their signatures. A formal arrangement, whether in the form of a gentleman's agreement or a treaty signed with much formality, is of no consequence whatever, if there be an absence of good will on the part of those who have entered into the obligation. Without any treaties whatever all disputes can be settled between nations who desire to be friendly and to deal justly with each other.

There exists now, and has long

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE ESSENTIAL

By Berton Braley

OH if you write a story, a story brave and fine
With thrills in every chapter and art in every line.
Still all its glow and glamor will be fugitive
Unless you put some love in—for Love's what makes it live.

AND if you sing a carol with lovely words and tune
That ripple like the waters beneath a silver moon.
His magic will not tarry or linger very long
Unless you put some love in, for Love's what makes the song!

WHAT if your deeds be splendid, what if your fame be wide?
These are but tansitory and will not long abide;
However you be lauded, however fortune smile,
If love itself be lacking—they are not worth the while.

SO if with pen you labor, or brush or spade or mail,
And if you fashion statues, or towers proud and tall,
Whatever be the talent or artistry that's yours,
Be sure to put some love in—for Love alone endures.

existed, the utmost good will between the people of the United States and the people of Great Britain. The official spokesmen of these two great nations have every desire to be friendly and just in dealing with each other. There will be rivalries, of course; there will be competition in commerce; there will be jealousies and consequent controversies; but these will be relatively trivial and easily overcome by a broad spirit of good will and the fundamental desire to be friendly and just.

Young ladies who type for a living will be interested to learn that the typewriter was invented 50 years ago this month. The inventor was Christopher Latham Sholes, and he perfected his device in Elkhart, N. Y.

Like all other important inventions, the idea of a typewriter machine had been buzzing in inventors' heads for untold generations. Probably even centuries. For laziness is back of most inventions, and the idea of typewriting must have occurred thousands of years ago when the making of records was a slow and laborious task.

As far back as 1714, Henry Miller patented a crude typewriter in England. He gave this description of it: "A machine for impressing letters singly and progressively, as in writing, whereby all writings may be engraved on paper, so exact as not to be distinguished from print." But to Christopher Latham Sholes, apparently goes the honor of perfecting the first typewriter "that really worked." That is to say a practical device.

It's queer how, when humanity tries to do something in a new way, it cannot get the old methods out of its heads.

For instance, the first railroad passenger cars looked like stage-coaches. And the first autos looked like buggies.

So with the typewriter. In most of the early typewriting machines, models of which are preserved in the patent office the keys were laid out in a row like the keys of a piano. It's difficult to thrust precedent aside. Finally the matter of convenience (laziness again led to a rearrangement of typewriter keys in several rows. Then the letters instead of running in alphabetical order (a, b, c, d, etc.) were shifted so that the key to be struck next was as close as possible to the one just tapped.

Penmanship was an accomplishment and a matter of pride in the old days, so many of the early typewriters printed an imitation of handwriting instead of type.

The typewriter has brought many advantages, but with it have come disadvantages worth thinking about. The typewriter has certainly aided in the facility of expression and communication (ease and speed), but it has also contributed to the multiplicity of unnecessary work by making expression and communication too easy.

It has been a boon to the eyesight of those who otherwise would have to scan penned letters. But it has destroyed the human and admirable art of letter writing, and frayed the nerves of multitudes.

It helps promote business thru first advertising, but at the same time it aids the flow of worthless literature without end. All around, the typewriter forged one more link in the great chain of mechanical devices that enslave us. However, you can have the pen and ink, we'll take the typewriter.

DIAGNOSTIC CLINIC FOR CHILDREN TODAY

First Session of Diagnostic Clinic for School Children to Be Held at Josephine Milligan School This Morning—Is Important Step in Health Program Development in Schools

The first session of the diagnostic clinic for school children will be held at the Josephine Milligan school building at nine o'clock this morning.

This clinic is an important step in the development of the general program of health supervision in the public schools which has been recently instituted by the board of education and which has the hearty support of Supt. B. F. Shafer.

The school board has appointed Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer, as director of the clinic and has delegated to him the authority to devise methods of procedure and generally supervise the work.

The Morgan County Medical society has heartily endorsed the proposition and the physicians will give their services without charge.

Dr. C. Ellsworth Black and Dr. F. Garm Norbury will make the general physical examinations.

Dr. A. L. Adams, Dr. A. R. Gregory and Dr. W. L. Frank will make the eye, ear, nose and throat examinations.

Dr. Josephine Milligan will make special examinations of this chest.

Dr. H. A. Chapin will do any necessary X-ray work.

Thru the courtesy of Dr. E. L. Hill, psychological examinations will be made by Dr. B. T. Trippe.

The board of education has very generously extended the services of this clinic to every school child residing in Morgan county and parents can be assured that as the result of a most thorough and competent examination they will receive the very best advice regarding the care of their children.

Each child examined at the clinic will be required to bring a written consent from the parents. After the examination has been completed, the director of the clinic will send a notice to the parents stating the conditions which have been discovered and referring the case to the family physician or specialist for treatment.

The school board has furnished the clinic rooms with all necessary equipment, and parents are urged to freely avail themselves of the exceptional facilities offered.

"Crashin' Thru" is far above the ordinary western drama because an unusually dramatic story developed with smashing thrills and climaxes. Carey, the prime favorite with lovers of outdoor photoplays, is suited perfectly to the romantic and adventuresome role afforded. It is a drama of rapid-fire action, including among its thrills such spectacular scenes as a stampede of horses, the burning of a ranch house, and the dynamiting of an entire mountainside.

Republican candidate for nomination for County Commissioner.
ELECTION TUESDAY
APRIL 10

Your vote will be appreciated. Mr. Bentley was born on a farm in Scott county, and is 42 years old. He has been a tax payer in Morgan county for twenty years. He enlisted in the World War and served with credit to his country. He is in favor of all the hard roads we can get, as long as they don't put a direct tax on us for them. He thinks we are burdened with enough taxes now. He has good faith in Senator Searey, and he knows that Morgan county will get her share of the hard roads.

Now we have big tax payers who have from one to three automobiles, who live off the hard road. They should have some consideration. "Good ole roads for the benefit of these citizens," will be Mr. Bentley's motto if elected.

Mr. Bentley is also in favor of caring for our poor in Morgan county, and he will favor setting aside a sum for this just cause. He is not in favor of going out of Morgan county to spend the county's money for anything price considered, we can get at home.

I am for Morgan County, first, last and always.

Griswold, on West Bridgeport street where the newly weds have been domiciled since their marriage a week ago. This is an interesting and favorite couple. Clave Corder has leased the McCracken property on West Franklin street, and will get possession some time in May. Mrs. M. A. McCracken whose sudden death was recently recorded, left an estate of a little more than $10,000, and it all goes to her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Hopkins, of Roodhouse, the only child.

Miss Helen Short has terminated her visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Short on Centennial street, and has returned to her studies in nursing in the Presbyterian School for Nurses in Chicago.

The condition of C. W. Whiteaker is critical. His daughter, Mrs. Eugene Sheward, arrived from St. Louis Saturday in company with her husband, and they will remain indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Porter have returned from their winter sojourn at Miami, Florida. They were in Cuba during the latter period of the sojourn.

Floyd E. Thompson, chief justice of the Illinois supreme court, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson, while Mrs. Thompson spent the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Worcester, in Roodhouse. Chief Justice Thompson has been tentatively engaged to speak in White Hall on July 4th.

TRI STATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION GROWING

QUINCY, Ill., April 9.—Growth of the Tri-State Athletic Officials' association has been so rapid and so consistent that plans are now under way for the organization of branch divisions at Davenport, Iowa, under Coach Hebermann of Knox college and the other in the Southern part of Illinois, probably at Centralia, with a manager to be selected later. It was announced at a meeting of the organization here today.

Officers also predicted that within the near future the entire territory of the States of Illinois, Missouri and Iowa, will be organized.

An added feature of the association's work will be the publishing each month of the school year of an athletic bulletin which will be sent to all high schools within a radius of seventy-five miles of the division headquarters.

Officers re-elected are: L. B. Echols, Quincy, president; Stuart M. Clark, Carthage, Ill., vice president; R. H. Dewitt, Kirksville, Mo., secretary-treasurer. Morris Anderson, Hannibal, Mo., and J. S. Wells, Keokuk, Iowa, other members of the executive committee.

REVIVAL AT CONCORD.

A series of meetings is in progress at the M. E. church with Rev. J. M. Shields of Lowder doing the preaching and Miss Ruth Miller of Towson, Md., leading the singing. Attendance is good and an interest is being awakened. Rev. Mr. Shields is doing very effective preaching and his sermons are furnishing much food for thought. His subject on Wednesday evening is "The Unpardonable Sin." All are cordially invited to attend these meetings. S. C. Hilburn, Pastor.

Lasting Satisfaction in the 'Hup- mobile

Satisfaction is perhaps the one word which best describes the feeling of every Hupmobile owner.

Satisfaction — with the faithful way it performs the tasks he sets for it to do; with the fact that it requires next to nothing in the way of expert care and adjustment; with low costs that stay low all the year 'round.

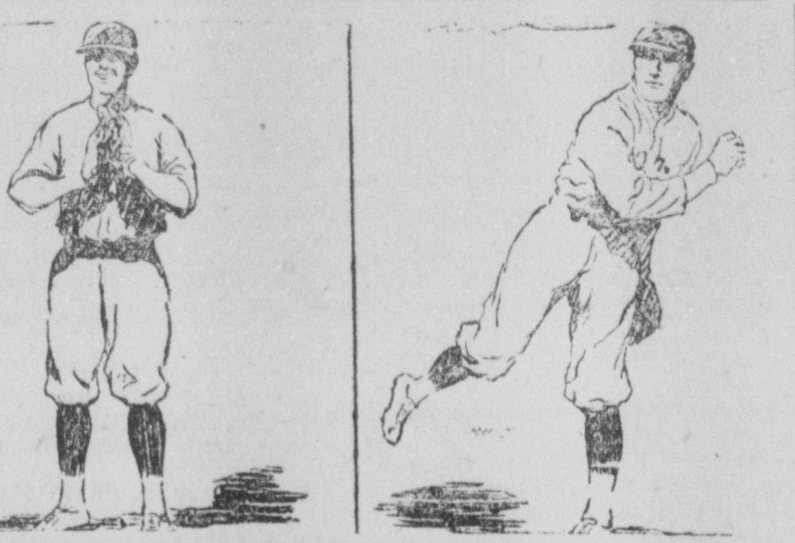

Satisfaction, in short, because the Hupmobile always does the things he wants it to do in the way he wants it to do them.

BASEBALL—HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PITCHING.

(This is the fourth of twelve articles in which William J. McCabe, the national league's youngest utility man, tells the big league's way of playing each position. Mr. McCabe, although still a young man, has been playing professional ball for 12 years. In 1920 he helped the Brooklyn Nationals win the pennant. At present he is utility man on the Los Angeles Angels. Having played every position on the field, Mr. McCabe is able to tell any boy who plays baseball exactly what and how to do it.)

After you have mastered pitching control, begin improving your speed. The faster you can throw a ball the better pitcher you are. Speed, however, like control, must be practiced. You cannot acquire it in one, or even two seasons. Whenever you pitch a game, throw the ball with all the power you can command, at times even adding a little extra effort.

Be careful how you grip the ball for throwing. Don't form the habit of wrapping your fingers about it every time you prepare to deliver a curve. Each time you hold the ball in a peculiar position you tell the batter and the catcher what sort of curve they can expect. As a result they get ready for you, and the batter gets a strike. Instead of adopting different positions of the hand for each style of ball thrown adjust your fingers as you make the motion to let the ball go. This confuses the batter. Good pitchers make it a point to mix their ball. A fadeaway curve will be followed by an in-curve. They never throw the same ball twice. An excellent plan to follow is to hold the ball in the same way for every curve, that is, with the whole hand around the sphere and not just two or three fingers.

Change Your Speed. To change the speed of a pitched ball hold the ball in the and without wrapping the fingers too tightly about it. A ball held loosely can be thrown with the same motion as a fast one, the difference being in the speed. Thus, when you pitch a drop you place your fingers on the seam of the ball, as this gives more leverage. By not gripping the ball any tighter than is necessary to hold it, you can pitch a slow drop ball.

Avoid the spit ball. Few pitchers have ever been able to master this curve. Today the spitball is barred from the big leagues. Spend your practice hours learning to master curves, speed and control, and it will not be long until you improve your pitching.

PRIEST SHOWS HOW TO MAKE SPIRIT PICTURES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 9. — Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "spirit pictures" showing throngs of shadowy figures gathered about the tomb of the British unknown soldier from London on Arratice Day were copied today by the Rev. C. M. DeHordis, S. J., who demonstrated in the photographic department of the Evening World that he could cause similar phenomena to appear on photographic plates without touching them, and without any aid from the other world. Father DeHordis, a Catholic priest at Mexico City, has made a long study of spiritualism as well as the tricks employed by state magicians and sleight of hand performers.

He described his method of producing weird photographs as "trickery and device and spiritualism not at all—because as between living persons here on earth and the spirits that have passed from the body there is not and cannot be a control from the living world."

The Evening World published two of Father Heredia's pictures—one a photograph of William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League upon which had been superimposed the shadowy figure of a tipsy vagabond and a bust of Sir Arthur, and the other a photograph of himself upon which he placed the vague form of a staff-hatted doughboy with his rifle at "present arms."

Three members of the newspaper's staff staff who were present at the demonstration testified Father Heredia did not touch the plates and did not approach closer to them at any time than three feet. When he had finished his demonstration he proved how simple it all was by whispering the secret to a staff photographer in the group who thereupon made some "spirit" pictures unaided.

A pretty wedding ceremony took place Monday morning, April 9th at nine o'clock at St. Bartholomew's church in Murrayville when Miss Loretta A. Farrell became the bride of John A. Wahl, Rev. Father P. P. McGinnis officiating.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Helen Walsh, organist, followed by a nuptial high mass. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Stella Doolin and John Shanahan. The bridal party then returned to the home of the bride where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives and friends.

The bride was attired in white silk tulle gown, with pearl and satin trimmings and wore a tulle veil caught with sprays of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pink roses, also a white prayer book. Her traveling costume was a blue three-piece suit of pique twill, embroidered in blue and a sand color hat with feather trimming to correspond. Her bridesmaid wore light blue taffeta trimmed in silver lace with hat to match.

JERRY CURTIN IS CAPTOR OF MORON

Man Well Known Here is Given Rewards in Chicago for Capture of Man Who Attacked Women - Tribune Gives Feature Writup of Policeman.

Jerry J. Curtin, who is well-known in this city, has been cited for bravery as a member of the Chicago police force. He ran down and captured a moron of giant stature, who is accused of attacking a number of women and girls. For this act Curtin received an award of $100 from the Chicago Tribune and the standing reward of $180 offered by the City of Chicago for the capture of criminals.

The policeman chased the moron after a woman had been attacked and slashed with a razor. He cornered the mad man and was confronted with a drawn razor, smeared with blood. Curtin drew his revolver, and the moron threw away the razor. The officer arrested him. The Tribune recently carried a portrait of the policeman and a full description of the chase and the capture.

Mr. Curtin has now been transferred from the regular Chicago police force and made a special probation officer of the city. He is a brother-in-law of Tom Duffner, of this city, and was for a time employed as bookkeeper in the Duffner clothing store here. Constable Charles Bucher of Waverly had an exciting time Sunday afternoon when he single handed and unarmed, captured Charles Wright, who is suspected of complicity in the robbery of the homes of Otis and Arthur Van Winkle. Butcher was notified that thieves had taken a team of horses, a revolver, watches and numerous other articles from the VanWinkle farm homes some time Sunday, while the families were absent, and that they were believed to have started for Waverly. Wright and Frank Blackburn, who had been employed by the Van Winkle brothers as farm hands, were suspected of the theft, as they had been left alone at the farms Sunday.

Constable Butcher immediately got busy and soon discovered Wright and Blackburn looting about the Burlington station in Waverly. Thinking he would have an easy catch, the constable hid his gun in his overcoat pocket, and began questioning the men. He finally told them to throw up their hands. Wright obeyed, and while Butcher was arresting him, Blackburn rifled the constable's pockets securing his gun.

Blackburn then covered the officer and ordered him to throw up his hands. Butcher showed his nerve by jumping behind his prisoner and using him as a shield. Pushing Wright ahead of him, Butcher advanced on Blackburn, who threatened to shoot. Finally seeing that the constable was not to be bluffed Blackburn turned and ran.

Hailing a passing auto, Butcher or took his prisoner to Waverly, and then pursued Blackburn. The sheriff's office here was notified and Sheriff Wright and deputy Strawn joined in the case, but all without success. Wright, the prisoner was brought to this city Sunday night and locked in the county jail. He will probably face a charge of grand larceny.

RED CROSS AIDS CHILDREN OF SOLDIERS

Thru the effective work of the Red Cross chapters in Jacksonville and Chicago, four little children of a soldier in the late war are to remain in Illinois. The details of the pathetic story show that these children of an ex-British soldier were brought to the U. S. by a sister of their deceased mother.

After the children came from England it was found that the father was an inmate of an insane asylum, and under this condition the children were about to be sent back to England under the deportation law.

Then the case attracted the attention of the Red Cross and investigation revealed the fact that the father, who had been in the war for four years, had lost his mind because of his war experiences.

The matter was presented to the British and American governments in the right light. The result is that the father is to remain at Jacksonville State hospital under the care of the U. S. veterans bureau, and the expenditures will be made good by the British government. In addition a small pension has been granted the children. This is but another instance of the work that the Red Cross is constantly doing along such lines.

400 ATTEND SPRING FESTIVAL AT I. W. C.

Great Crowd Dined in Beautiful "Terrace Garden"—All Features of Spring Fete Successful and Well Patronized.

"Terrace Garden." The Spring Fete at Illinois Women's college last night was a grand and complete success. More than four hundred and fifty reservations for luncheon were all taken. All the refreshments and candy were sold out early. The various acts given from the stage on the main floor of the gymnasium were repeated six or seven times during the evening, instead of three times, as was previously planned. The tables filled and filled again with interested spectators and diners. Beginning at 5:30 the performance was continuous until 10 o'clock.

The decorations thruout the gymnasium consisted principally of lattice work and ribbon, set off by flowers and ferns. The entire effect was to give the visitor the impression of being in a pleasant and fascinating garden. The decorating was done by the girls themselves, as was also the staging and acting on the program. Nothing has been left undone to make the affair a success, and for weeks the girls have been hard at work on the program and plans for the decorations. The large amount cleared for the endowment fund of the college fully justified their efforts.

The swimming exhibition was exceptionally good, and was well patronized by the visitors. The Ivy Inn, a prettily decorated booth at the main entrance, where candy was sold, did more than pay its way. Colored ribbons and special lighting effects added to the beauty of the scene.

CITY MAY STAGE BIG PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Fred High Submits Proposition to Chamber of Commerce to Put on Week of Addresses and Publish Booklet on Jacksonville—
10,000 Copies Would Be Distributed

An opportunity to engage in a great drive for publicity and get into the limelight has been offered to this city by Fred High, famous business expert, who gained such wide popularity here as speaker at the Kiwanis banquet. In a letter written to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and presented by him to the Commercial Division at its meeting Friday morning, Mr. High submits a proposition.

It is Mr. High's plan to spend a week in Jacksonville, giving talks to schools, citizens and organizations, and also putting on meetings in the interest of Jacksonville in surrounding communities. When he has finished the week of addresses, Mr. High will write a 24-page booklet about Jacksonville. Under the proposed plan, the Chamber of Commerce would receive 5,000 copies of the booklet for local distribution, while Mr. High would distribute another 5,000 copies to manufacturers and other places throughout the country, wherever he considered the publicity would do Jacksonville the most good.

Mr. High has put on such campaigns in Michigan City, Ind., during the past four years. He booked ten state conventions for that city last year, and has eleven scheduled for the coming year. Twenty-six factories have come to the city since Mr. High began working up its publicity. Three hundred homes have been built.

The Commercial Division considered the plan favorably; and it is probable that the proposition will be accepted. Mr. High will address the Cloverleaf Industrial Managers here next Saturday evening, and it is hoped to arrange a meeting with him at that time, at which a committee may talk further with him concerning the plan and perhaps make definite arrangements.

TOLEDO ATTORNEY DIES HERE SUNDAY

Charles Clark Eggleston, states attorney at Toledo, Ill., died Sunday at a local hospital, where he has been for the past week. The remains were removed to the O'Donnell undertaking parlors, where they were prepared for burial Sunday evening the body was shipped to Toledo over the Wabash.

Mr. Eggleston was 27 years of age, and was prominent in his community and county. When taken ill about two weeks ago, he was engaged in the prosecution of a number of bootleggers, as a part of a great cleanup campaign in the county. Burdened with the strenuous work of the campaign and the subsequent prosecution, which he was conducting, the attorney collapsed, and was brought to the hospital in this city. During the week past his condition steadily improved; but Saturday he took suddenly worse and his condition became critical. His death Sunday was the result.

The deceased is survived by a wife and two children. Funeral services will be held in Toledo.

Brooklyn Brevities

A new bulletin board for the Sunday school, the contribution of Superintendent E. A. Garey and George Stansfield, showed the fine record of 166 attendance and $5.00 offering for last Sunday. The goal of attendance is 200 and of enrollment, 225. At the Children's Church Hour, the Brooklyn Canaries, Elizabeth Dickinson, Virginia Bond, Fern McDonald and Vivian Barger sang "The Little Frog," "At Easter Time" and "The March Wind." The pastor preached a five minute sermon on "Lead Pencils." At the regular service, the subject was "Three Tabernacles." Moses represented the Law, Elijah stood for Doctrine. Both of these are necessary to lead men to Christ, but He, alone has power to save from sin. At the close of the service five children were baptized and four adults were received into the church. The evening service was unique. It began with a happy half hour of instrumental music and congregational singing, one feature of which was the singing of the verses of the familiar folk-song, "Nellie Gray," by J. A. Walters and the chorus by the audience. A surprise was sprung on the congregation when they were asked to remain silent during the chorus of "Pass me not, O gentle Saviour" and a clear but distant echo came from a soprano voice in the gallery. The echo-singing will be tried again with variations. Next Wednesday evening will be the time for the monthly meeting of the Official Board. This is also church night and is open to all. A delicious luncheon will be served to all who come. The study will be on "What Methodism Believes." The play hour will be in charge of Miss Julia Williamson. The devotional hour will be led by Mr. Garey.

Grace Church Doings

The Bloomington school passes into the lead in the contest with a fine burst of interest. They pass to the leadership by making 140 points to 30 points made by the local school. Bloomington reported 326 on time an attendance of 427 and 16 new scholars, while the local school had 293 on time, an attendance of 417 and 6 new scholars. It is hoped that this reverse will be only temporary and will serve to make the home school renew their efforts with more earnestness.

Next Sunday will be 100 Per Cent Day in the school and every member of the school and church is expected to be in attendance.

The subject of the morning sermon by the pastor was "From Doubt to Certainty." At the close of the sermon a class of probationers was received into church membership.

At 4:30 the Junior league met in a very interesting meeting. Miss Margaret Camm gave a group of readings and a letter written especially to the Juniors of Grace church by Miss Blackburn of Bulgaria was read.

The Intermediate and Senior leagues met at 6:30 with profitable sessions.

The topic of the evening sermon, "The Lilies of the Field," was handled in a very thoughtful manner.

The monthly meeting of the Official Board will be held on Monday evening at 7:30.

The Pastor's Aid society will sew all day Wednesday, holding a business session at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The weekly church supper will be served at 6:15. Tickets are being sold in advance and can be secured of Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Phipps or Mrs. Rawlings. Price 25c. A meeting of the Sunday School Board will follow the supper and precede the prayer service at 7:30.

Friday evening the men of the Bible class will have as their guests at a supper a bunch of boys whose names have been supplied by the Social Service league.

Centenary Certainties

Sunday was another unusual day at Centenary. The Sunday School reached the high point of attendance, and the program was equal to any that has gone before. The music that is rendered by the students from the School for the Blind is a very interesting and helpful part of the regular session and those who come late are missing one of the best parts of the whole session. The solo last Sunday was especially good.

Another class was received into the church at the morning service. This class numbered seven. With the forty-two received on Easter and the number yet to be received who have not been able to be present, the Spring gathering will reach well beyond the half-hundred mark.

The visitation by the members of the Men's class was a remarkable piece of christian activity. Twenty teams of two men each visited one hundred and eighty families Sunday afternoon. They went in the interest of two things: Sunday School membership and church attendance. The approach to these subjects was made by way of Bible reading and prayer. Then an invitation to the church services, a friendly chat and the visitors left. The visible results of such a canvass cannot, of course, be recognized at once, but the spiritual effect was very apparent when the men reported at the evening service. Such work is unusual on the part of such organizations, and the results cannot but be helpful and contribute more largely than anything else to the end sought. The evening service was given over to the reports of the visitors and many remarkable and unexpected facts were brought out in the several brief speeches, and well as a deep realization on the part of all present of the value of such a friendly ministry by the church. It is expected that this will be followed up by a more thorough and general canvass of the constituency of the church in which as many visitors as can be secured will take part.

Telephone Talks

"PLEASE DO NOT BE IMPATIENT IF YOU GET THE 'BUSY' SIGNAL. THE LINE IS IN USE."

When a telephone is reported busy it means that somebody is already using the line with which you desire connection.

A busy telephone line is one of "life's little irritations." However reasonable we may be, we are inclined to resent the necessity of waiting until someone else finishes a leisurely conversation.

Not infrequently when a telephone is busy the line is in use by a child at home or some minor employee or an office who is taking advantage of the parents' or employers' absence to "visit" over the wire. Subscribers can help to improve their own service and that of all other subscribers by making reasonable rules governing the use of the service in their offices and homes.

The National Y. W. C. A., in the interest of the health and comfort of its 400,000 members, made an exhaustive study of correct footwear for women. They reported in favor of a shoe which has (1) an inner sole line following the line of the foot; (2) room for the toes without crowding; (3) broad heel; (4) flexible shank, allowing action of arch muscles.

All these are distinguishing features of Cantilever Shoes.

The Board of Police Surgeons made an independent investigation, and their report also recommends the "flexible shank shoe." The stiff shoe does not permit free play for the muscles, which become cramped, weak and wasted.

In contrast, a flexible shank shoe allows the foot to exercise and the arch muscles to grow strong.

INFLUENZA

As a preventive, melt and inhale night and morning—
VICKS
VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

The opening exercises are virtually the same as outlined in "Service," then each evening there are two prepared articles and two impromptu on the talk for the evening; then there is at least one number of special music with limited time for open discussion. On Sunday evening Arthur Howells offered a prepared article which seemed just to the point on the topic, "The Ethical Significance of Sabbath Observance." The article in full is as follows:

Time changes all things. Ideals, motives, passions, forces of nature and conceptions of God, all vary in their manifold applications to the life of mankind. Human existence presents a kaleidoscopic appearance featuring man merging from one set of moral laws to another. One question which has been ever present and will ever remain as long as intelligence rules the world is, what is right?

In this age of speed, pleasure and comfort, we find our moral person assuming so many diverse masks that we wonder what the nature of the being whose appearance changes so often. The morals of the seventeenth century condemned the building of fires or cooking of food on the Sabbath. The morals of the seventeenth century were cultivated by a three of four hour sermon on Sunday. Yet the morals of that same period countenanced the persecution of old women classed as witches.

In the world of morals, confusion reigns supreme. We grope in blackness which rivals midnight darkness. We long for a distinct black line, the crossing of which would reveal to us that we had gone too far, that we were now not good but bad. In other words humanity knows no bounds for that which is wrong. We cannot make the finer distinctions which separate the good from the bad. Never in the history of the world has it been so difficult to distinguish a Christian. At this very minute it must be admitted that the vast majority of Christians are dance crazy or at least mildly enthusiastic about it, that likewise the majority of Christians play cards, that the majority would enjoy a show on Sunday afternoon if given the opportunity. Are these pastimes right and good? Are they wrong and bad? Undoubtedly they are right and good in themselves. Then is there any wrong in them? Yes, there are two wrongs in particular. (1) that the individual subjects himself voluntarily to the danger of exercise participation in them. (2) that lasting enthusiasm for Christian work depreciates in the same ratio as the frequency of participation in these pastimes increases.

Is it wrong to go fishing on Sunday? Is it wrong to play baseball on Sunday? Is it wrong to go to a show on Sunday? Is it wrong to play cards on Sunday? Is it wrong to have a picnic on Sunday? Is it wrong to play croquet, checkers, chess, dominoes or tidily winks on Sunday?

Any individual who has developed a high grade morality by becoming a true follower of Christ has faced these questions of morals time and time again. However, those who are in the kindergarten stage of moral development are blessed with no such conflicts between inclination and duty. They live a relatively care free life. But no individual, whether he has morals or not is void of a conscience. One may so persistently allow his inclinations to run amok that his conscience may deteriorate but it will never disappear. It will live dormant until the attractive life of Christ permeates his being. Then will his conscience arise in all its power and glory to subdue his immoral inclinations and to develop others consistent with the will of God.

So far, so good. But all consciences are not alike. What one may do on Sunday with no lashing from his task master conscience, another may disdain. Not only in conscience thus restricted within its realm by being so diversified but also it has the reputation of not being an infallible guide. Our conscience may tell us that swimming on Sunday is right. Then is it right because we think it is? This is the verdict on the case of conscience: that it is, in the main, fashioned by convention. The conscience of our parents has been inflicted upon by the use of the hickory limb. This our conscience is not our own but that of our parents transplanted in us. Then what our conscience tells us is right is not the result of a serious deliberation on our part but the reaction of a fusion of conscience of our ancestors. But the case of conscience has been tried before a tribunal which has sat in judgment from time immemorial and this is the favorable judgment that has been bequeathed to us: That, on the whole, conscience is a reliable guide for all major problems of life. But it is sadly lacking in the more delicate situations which the individual must face. For instance, all civilized people agree that murder is wrong. But all civilized people do not agree that swimming on Sunday is wrong. Conscience is nothing more than the morals of our ancestors. Our ancestors are no more apt to be right than we. Then our bewildered moral self asks again: What is right?

Shall we wait in expectancy, like Samuel of old, for God to speak to us and tell us what is right? God does not speak "in decent clear" to his creation today as he did in Moses' time. We cannot lift our eyes solemnly to the skies and ask "Oh Lord, may I go fishing next Sunday?" "Our Heavenly Father has very thoughtfully foreseen that these creatures of dust perhaps might need to use some brains. So he has placed within this bony skull a powerful mechanism. He has sent his only Son to earth to teach us how to live. What more could we desire? For here is the example and here is the mind of the individual to make the application. Then the conclusion would be to do as Christ would do if He were here. But then we strike another problem. How shall we know Christ's mind? How do we know what He would do? The four gospels do not record that Christ ever went swimming or fishing even on week days.

Then can it be denied that our moral problem is a confused one? What is proper on Sunday and what is not proper. First we appeal to conscience and it responds with authority. Then we read the Bible and it gives no specific reply. Next we appeal to God in prayer and He does not speak to us as He did to the prophets. In our distraction what shall we do? Only one thing is left to be done and that is to arbitrarily draw a line thru our list of Sunday pastimes and declare to our friends that with the assistance of our Master, of

TO STOP WORK

Springfield Citizen was Unfit for Duty Because of Stomach Trouble, He States—Now Well

John McGrath, 1602 S. 15th St., Springfield, Ill., employee of the Sturman-Buttrick Co., is still another who has found Tanlac a sure means back to health, strength and working efficiency. In a recent statement Mr. McGrath said:

"After suffering four years with stomach trouble and getting in such bad health I had to give up my work, the Tanlac treatment put me back on my feet feeling fine. Indigestion had my stomach so upset I couldn't eat without suffering for hours afterwards with gas bloating, shortness of breath and fearful pains like hot coals in my stomach. Bileous attacks and headaches both day and night kept me miserable. I could get no restful sleep and kept losing weight. "But six bottles of Tanlac has made an entirely new man of me, and not a trace of my old troubles remains. I gladly recommend Tanlac, for it's the best medicine I ever heard of."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

our Bible and of our conscience we have decided that thus far shall we go and no further. Then if a friend should ask us to do something on Sunday our answer would depend upon which side of that line we had placed that activity. This partial solution we cannot be certain is right. No, it may be wrong. If Christ while on earth did not tell us what is right about one certain problem of ours, we shall never know what is right until He comes a second time to rule with power over this His bewildered creation.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the safe substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is instantaneous. These little olive colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the work that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that tizzy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 30c

HUMAN SO ILL
COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight, and Now Doing Own Work by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was ill-run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the paper telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, and I thought I would try it. The compound really did me good. I had lost my appetite and wanted to give up. I took one bottle and could go to work. I did for me a week's time, and then I had taken three bottles I had gained in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it because my last baby was born and it had me so much. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female troubles. I know by experience it can do it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Elvington, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years of service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

GETS MESSAGE FROM SON THEN PASSES ON

Mrs. David N. Bradburn lying at Death's Door Holds On Until Message Came That Son is on His Way from California

White Hall, April 9.—"Give me my best love and tell her I'm on my way," flashed a message from Major Clarence E. Bradburn of Los Angeles, Calif., that reached the bedside of his mother, Mrs. David N. Bradburn, on West Bridgeport street, at 9:35 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Bradburn, 70, had been in bed for hours at death's door, appearing to survive the call of death until the last loving message from her admired son could reach her. One hour later Mrs. Bradburn has passed on into Eternity.

Major Bradburn, now retired and engaged in the steel business, will reach here tonight, and then arrangements for the funeral will be announced.

The services will be held in the home. Death was caused by pneumonia.

The deceased was a native of Pike county, Illinois, born at Florence 67 years ago July 26th last. Her maiden name was Bella Sever.

She was just 41 years ago today, April 9, 1882, that she and David Bradburn were married. They resided at Detroit, Pike county, for four years, and were then residents of Nobe for 28 years prior to coming to White Hall in May, 1914.

Her husband's attention, and her own, were given to the school teaching as a profession, having a continuous record of 27 years in Pike county, equaling if not exceeding that of any other teacher in that county.

Since coming to White Hall the couple have been engaged in small farming on the spacious premises on West Bridgeport street, formerly the Quigley place.

In later years Mr. Bradburn has served to some extent as a Justice of the peace, having had experience in that office before coming to White Hall. Their children are Mrs. C. O. Chard, Nobe; Mrs. Robert Malone, Detroit, Mich.; Major Clarence E. Bradburn, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. J. Gentle, at home. The deceased had been a member of the M. E. church since she was 15 years of age.
